Ready for any debate, says AAP

Congress leader Sunil Jakhar has challenged Opposition for a discussion

"My party [AAP] accepts the challenge of Mr. Jakhar and leaves the choice of leader, place and time to him. Mr. Jakhar could pick any leader to debate with from amongst our State president Bhagwant Mann, MP Major General Suresh Mantri, or if he wants he can have a discussion with me also," he said.

Mr. Jakhar, who is the Congress candidate from Gurdaspur, had recently challenged the Opposition to have a debate on any issue related to the State.

"No big rallies"

Leader Sunil Jakhar for a "no big rallies" thrown by Congress on Monday said the Aam Aadmi Party was ready for debate.

"I challenge the Opposition to have a debate on any issue related to the State. Merkel’s world
Her re-election as Chancellor comes with huge challenges domestically and globally

Agatha Merkel’s return for a fourth consecutive term was a revelation of how the world has changed. As a former Green Party activist, she has led Germany through the first of SIN, the rightist national party, the second of all European countries to vote for a center-left candidate. With her natural flair for caution and pragmatism, Ms. Merkel embodied such a stance, one that was seen as a beacon of hope in an era of political uncertainty. The triumph was a testament to her ability to navigate the complexities of European politics with skill and precision.

Mamta Bhanwark holds a unique perspective. She was born in the late 20th century when she was beleaguered on several fronts. By all means, she has been a formidable force who has had to face her fair share of criticism. The current political climate has been challenging, to say the least. With her election triumphant, she has brought forward a new era of governance. Her policies aim to uplift the lower socio-economic strata of society. Aiming at education, healthcare, and infrastructure development, her administration is focused on creating a conducive environment for the growth of the economy. Mamta Bhanwark's success story is a testament to her unwavering dedication and relentless efforts to bring about positive change. Her vision for a more equitable and prosperous society is a beacon of hope for many. Empowering women

Mamta Bhanwark's victory is significant, not just for the woman herself but for all women who aspire to break the glass ceiling. Her leadership is an inspiration to young girls and women around the world. Mamta Bhanwark's success is a reminder that with determination and hard work, anyone can achieve their dreams. Her story is a call to action, urging women to believe in themselves and strive for excellence. By breaking barriers and forging ahead, Mamta Bhanwark is a beacon of hope, showing the world that women can indeed lead and achieve great things.

The world is a better place with her in it, and her presence is a testament to how far we have come. Let us continue to support and enable more women to step into leadership roles, making the world a more equal and inclusive place for all.

###Stormy waters ahead for Merkel

Merkel, Germany's Angela Merkel, began the tough task of trying to build a new government on Monday after securing a fourth term as Chancellor, urging the centre-left Social Democrats (SPD) not to shut the door on a rerun of their "grand coalition" on two key issues that divide them.

Background

A day after winning her fourth term as German Chancellor to become Europe's longest-serving leader, Merkel faces a tight deadline to form a governing coalition in time to prepare for a summit with U.S. President Barack Obama on Wednesday.

Challenges

Merkel faces the difficult task of trying to bring together a broad coalition of the centre-left SPD, the liberal Free Democrats (FDP) and the far-right Alternative for Germany (AfD) to form a government.

Outlook

Merkel's Christian Democratic Union (CDU) and its Bavarian sister party were forced to accept mediation talks involving the SPD and the AfD.

Intervention, rethinking needed to stir demand

Centre, States should step up capital spending in fiscal

Market access

Economic growth in India has weathered the global turbulence and some of the challenges. It is well equipped to move to a higher growth trajectory in the near future.

However, subdued growth in the last few months, coupled with the slowdown in exports and imports of capital goods, continues to put pressure on the economy. The central government's efforts to increase spending on capital goods in public and private sectors, and in the economy, have slowed investment in the economy. One of the critical contributions made by the government to ensure greater market access for foreign goods and services is the need to increase private investment in the economy.

New Delhi wants its English, yoga teachers to get opportunities to offer services in India, South Korea to upgrade FTA at ‘earliest’

Even as the India-South Korea Free Trade Agreement (FTA) will be expanded soon to boost bilateral trade and investment, New Delhi has decided to upgrade the pact before the year-end to ensure greater market access for Indian goods and services in South Korea.

The upgrade will lift bilateral trade, according to official sources, in line with New Delhi’s effort to foster better ties with South Korea and its desire to bring in more foreign direct investment. India’s exports to South Korea, though, are nothing compared to the USD 79 billion trade with China.

The two trading partners agreed to upgrade the existing FTA in a meeting on Tuesday. The agreement is expected to come into effect in the near future.

The FTA Upgrade is expected to boost trade and investment between the two countries. The current FTA was signed in 2012 and has been in force since 2015.

Government measures

The government has announced several measures to boost trade and investment between the two countries, including the FTA Upgrade.

Future outlook

With the FTA Upgrade expected to come into effect soon, India and South Korea are expected to see a significant boost in trade and investment. The two countries are expected to benefit from the new measures, which are expected to stimulate economic growth and create job opportunities.

Karn, Nadeem spin a web

The visitors offer little resistance as the pair skillets the opposition out again

By B. R. Kalyan

Karn Sharma (10/2) and Nadeem Shaukat (4/1) grabbed a web on Thursday as India A thrashed the newly crowned world champions India-B by an innings and 5 runs in the first Test in Maldives Cricket Complex here of the three-match series. After a 50-minute delay due to a deep shadow in the morning, the Kiwis, returning at 64/2, were never really in the game — being bowled out for 165 in their first innings.

This despite there being no drying in the pitch. It was in the second, and the Kiwis lost the psychological edge. Thanks to some good fielding and technical competence required to pull back, which the visitors had in abundance, and the quick wickets added to make the game more exciting.

Once Karn put the first breakthrough in the stuff over the bowler, it became a real struggle for the three who followed him to the wickets. When Venkatesh Rao and Jeetan Patel were looking to take a steep off Karn to be caught, it was too late. It was, in fact, Hataria Will and the Kiwis were reduced to 165/5.

At lunch, the Kiwis were 165/6 and the only lesson was that the innings defeat could be avoided or not. Karn and Shaukat mapped out the run in 11 overs after lunch that included one pair of two wickets.

Karn, in particular, was skilful in not allowing batsmen to score. Karn, in particular, was skilful in not allowing batsmen to score. He was far more than just a spin bowler.

The score: New Zealand A — Innings 1st: 165 for 7 (113 overs).

India A: 1st innings: 320.

New Zealand A — 2nd innings: George Osborne (2), Washim Rana (3), Henry Nicholls (6), Hetal Patel (1), Tim Bresnan (1), Tim Southee (1).

New Zealand B — 2nd innings: Varun Gayen (1), Scott Capon (1), S. Ravi (1), Rajneesh (1), Aditya Agarwal (1), K. Murali Kumar (0), G. C. Mandrekar (0), Lega Wipers (0), Aditya Gavai (0), Sanjay (0).

Maradona to kick off football converge

Going to the top is the new Lakshya

ARMIDALE

After the recent shock of losing the top of the world junior badminton ranking list, asket lost a semi-final to the upping Batley.

The up-and-coming Batley defeated the senior of the World No. 2, Yash xauk and Rudolf Van der Westhuysen, 21-13, 21-12, 21-17.

The Lakshya, who trains at the Prakash Padukone Badminton Academy here, was not too worried about the ranking.

“Don’t think about the ranking. I just want to do well in the major tournaments, it will take care of the ranking,” said the 13-year-old Lakshya.

India-A won by an innings and 5 runs.

Lakshya said on Monday: "About the usual chances at the World, Lakshya replied, I want to play to my full potential. If I do that, I will do well.”

Former National women’s singles champion Sugandhi, who coaches Lakshya at BFS, reiterated the young star’s sentiments and the whole state which comes to the young star’s emotions.

The Simmi Kanau was bright. His training has progressed immensely and we want him to peak at the right time for the World Cup," said Sugandhi.

A team of French cyclists has made it their mission to put an end to the unnecessary burning of biodegradable waste, one restaurant at a time.

La Tricyclerie, a neat play on the French words for sorting out rubbish, recycling organic waste, paper, glass, and other organic waste into compost.

Launched at the end of 2003, with just eight restaurants on board, the anti-waste tour has grown to include 25 restaurants and nine businesses.

Coordinator Valentine Vilhena, 28, travels on the electric tricycles to restaurants in the western city of Nantes, which have been designated for the bat.

It's simple, take everything, even the eggs, and citrus fruits. Everything apart from bread, meat and alcohol, she says. This creative initiative, which relies largely on volunteers, has even impressed the United Nations.

La Tricyclerie and its founder Céline Billon, 28, are one of the 12 world finalists, whittled down from 1,400 candidates, for the UN's "Young Champions of the Earth" competition. The prize, to be awarded in November, is $5,000.

Robotic fashion: Wear your heartbeats on your sleeve

Designer Anouk Wipprecht describes how she pushes boundaries by combining digital technology with haute couture

"It's easy and it doesn't steal the service at all," she says. Below restaurant manager Guillaume Chol qx says, "It's simple and very effective."

Community engagement

La Tricyclerie, which has two paid staff and about 10 volunteers collects on average a contribution of €40 per month and its annual income bounces from 50 to 500 from businesses.

"A real community, with the restaurants, has built around the rotation of public and private companies of compost - we are real environmental actors," said one of the volunteers, Pierre Brice, while stirring compost.

The association promotes the reduction of waste and asks for a community engagement once a year, a week to pick

The compost is redistributed free of charge to community gardens or to students of the Nantes university.

La Tricyclerie, which collects around 15 tonnes of waste a month, has set itself an objective of reducing the volume of restaurant food waste in the city by 80%.

"We all have to work together to achieve this goal," said Christophe Traoré, a real community, with its volunteers, has even impressed even more experimental.
